

Carrollton:

FRIDAY, JUNE 3, 1836.

Fourth of July.—We are requested to give notice that there will be a public meeting held at the Courthouse, in Carrollton, on Monday evening the 6th inst. at 6 o'clock; for the purpose of making suitable arrangements to celebrate the approaching Anniversary of our National Independence. A general attendance of the citizens of both town and country, is respectfully invited.

We have revised the editorial article which we published, last week, in relation to the Texian war; and we feel satisfied that no injustice is done by that article to the character and motives of those who constitute the Texian army. Our views, however, were given with some diffidence; and we should be thankful to any gentleman who is acquainted with the causes and progress of this war, for a communication, setting forth the true grounds upon which the Texians took up arms, together with some account of the numerical strength and moral character of the Texian army.

Death of Mr. Livingston.—The New York papers announce the death of the Hon. Edward Livingston, our late Minister to France. Mr L. died on Monday afternoon (the 23d ult.) at his seat at Red Hook (N. Y.) after a short illness induced by drinking cold water, while heated on Sunday.

Mr. Madison.—The Fredericksburgh (Va.) Arena states that the venerable Ex-President Madison, is lying dangerously ill.

Congress.—Tuesday, May 24. Mr. Adams asked the consent of the house to offer the following resolutions, and to state a few reasons for offering them.

Resolved, That the president of the U. States be requested to communicate to this house, if not incompatible with the public interest, copies of any overture made since the 3d of March, 1829, by his authority, to the government of the United Mexican States, for the acquisition by the United States of any portion of the territories of Mexico; and copies of all correspondence between the two governments relating thereto, and upon any question of boundary existing between the United States and Mexico.

Resolved, That the president of the U. States be requested to communicate to this house, if not incompatible with the public interest, a copy and translations of any law, decree or ordinances of the Mexican republic, abolishing slavery within the territories thereof, which may be in possession of the executive department of the United States.

Objections being made, Mr Adams asked leave to state his reasons for desiring to move these resolutions; which being objected to,

Mr Chambers, of Ky. moved to suspend the rules to allow Mr. Adams to state the reasons; and that motion was negatived without a division.

Mr Adams then moved to suspend the rules to allow him to offer the resolutions, and asked for the yeas and nays on that question; which were ordered.

Mr Huntsman asked if the motion was divisible. He said he was willing to vote for the first resolution, and he did not doubt the president would be willing to give all the information required by it, but he was opposed to receiving the second resolution.

Mr Adams said, to accommodate the gentleman, (Mr Huntsman) he would modify his motion so as to apply it to the first resolution only.

Mr Huntsman then remarked that he would vote to suspend the rules to allow that resolution to be offered.

Mr Thompson, of South Carolina, said that if the house should allow the resolution to be offered, and when it should come before the house, he should move an amendment to it, [proposing, it was understood, to ask of the executive his opinion as to the expediency of recognizing the independence of Texas.]

The question was taken on suspending the rules to enable Mr Adams to offer the first of the above resolutions, and decided as follows:—Yeas, 82—Nays, 68.

So the house refused (two thirds of the members present being required to carry it) to suspend the rules to allow Mr Adams to offer his resolution.

For the Carroll Free Press.

Messrs. Pearce & Christy:

You announce that you will publish in your next, at the request of a friend, a letter written by a member of Congress from New York, to prove that Mr Van Buren is not a Roman Catholic. We think, gentlemen, there can be no doubt but that letter was got up for the purpose, and if through your neutral paper, it can be introduced into the ranks of Gen. Harrison, the object of your friend will be obtained; the public must be on the watch for such tricks, and give them only what credit they are entitled to—we have been too long gulled in this manner—we have sustained Gen. Jackson throughout, and he is now about to retire with honor; but we will not be "transferred" to any man at the pleasure of the office-holders of the day, for the purpose of enabling them to retain their places.

We go for HARRISON. We will keep an eye on your Van Buren friend.
A few Old Jacksonmen.

The bill for the relief of the corporate Cities of the district of Columbia has now passed both Houses of Congress, and in a shape which it is supposed the President of the U. States will approve. It provides simply that the United States, instead of guaranteeing (as it now does) the payment of the interest on the Holland loan to the three cities, shall assume the debt to itself, receiving in trust, towards its eventual extinction, the stock belonging to the three cities, in the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal, which money was borrowed to pay for. The cities are therefore henceforth to be relieved from the payment of interest, on the debt, which has been an exhausting drain to them; the proportion of the principal debt due by Washington being one million of dollars, and that due by each of the other cities a quarter of a million of dollars.

Pittsburgh, May 20.

The general assembly of the Presbyterian Church commenced its session in this city yesterday; in the first Presbyterian Church. The introductory sermon was delivered by the moderator of last session, the Rev. Mr. Phillips. At its session in the afternoon of yesterday, the Rev. John Witherspoon of South Carolina was elected Moderator.

This will be perhaps the most important meeting ever held by this ecclesiastical body. The appeal of the First Presbyterian Church of Philadelphia, in the case of the Rev. Albert Barnes, and the case of the Rev. Dr. Beecher, of Cincinnati, with the action upon the slavery question, will all tend to make it a very interesting and exciting session. —Advo.

From the Cincinnati Journal.

General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church.—This body has been in session more than a week in Cincinnati. Bishops Roberts, Soule, Hedding and Andrew, are present. Dr. Capers, Dr. River, of Georgia, the Rev. Mr. Winnans, of Mississippi, the Rev. Mr. Paine, of Alabama, President of Lagrange College, Rev. Mr. Early, of Virginia, Rev. Messrs. Rozel and Hamilton, of Maryland, Dr. Bangs, and the Rev. Messrs. Waugh and Ostrander, of New York, Dr. Ruter and one co editor, the Rev. Mr. Elliott of Pennsylvania, the Rev. Messrs. Bascom, Kavanaugh and Tomlinson, of Kentucky, the Rev. Mr. Wiley, of Indiana, the Rev. Mr. Cartwright of Illinois, and the Rev. Mr. Light of Missouri, are among the distinguished & able men of the present Conference. The Rev. Mr. Lord, President of the Canada Conference and representative of the Wesleyan Conference of Great Britain, participates in the deliberations.

The Conference have already appointed the Rev. Dr. Fisk, to represent the United States Methodists in the British Conference, which meets in July next.

There is a proposition before the Conference for the appointment of a Secretary of Missions, to take a general charge of Missionary operations. The permanent location of the "Book Concern," the elections of Bishops, agents of the Book Concern, & Editors of the Christian Advocate and Journal, the restoration of Wesley's rule in regard to the traffic and use of ardent spirit; the decision of some important principles in regard to slavery, which has been brought up by a memorial signed by one hundred and fifty travelling preachers, asking the restoration of the old rule on the subject; a project for a reunion with the American Bible Society, in its noble operations; a plan for originating and sustaining a general Theological Library for the use of the Methodist connection in the United States; are yet to engage the attention of the Conference.

It will readily be seen that the business is of great importance; and we sincerely pray that our Methodist brethren may be led to such results as will be for the glory of God and the happiness of their church.

From the Delaware Journal of May 10

It is with deep regret we announce to our fellow citizens the death of our venerable townsman CALEB P. BENNETT, governor of the state of Delaware. He departed this life yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock, in the 78th year of his age, after a painful illness of about four weeks.

Governor Bennett was the last surviving commissioned officer of the gallant regiment of Delaware, and like all the officers of that distinguished corps, bravely & faithfully discharged his duty to his country. He entered the service when about eighteen years of age as an ensign, and with the uncalculating and enthusiastic patriotism which distinguished that period of our history, he embarked his all in the venture and bravely persevered to the end. Major Bennett was present in all the general engagements which were fought in the middle states—at Trenton, Princeton, Long Island, Brandywine, Germantown, Monmouth, in all these engagements he was with the Delaware Regiment, and, of course, in the thickest of the fight. At the battle of Germantown, he was severely wounded in the attack upon Chew's house. When General Gates was appointed to the command of the southern army, major Bennett accompanied his regiment under the orders of the brave De Kalb; and in the desperate conflict at Camden, his company was almost annihilated. He was then detached on the recruiting service to Delaware, and having completed his complement of men, joined the army of Washington, and closed a brilliant series of military services, by participating in the capture of Cornwallis at Yorktown.

Since the close of that eventful war, major Bennett has principally resided in Delaware, and for the last twenty years, in this, his native town. He was remarkable for all the qualities which constitute a good citizen; a tender and affectionate husband and father, a warm hearted friend and neighbor, a devoted patriot and an honest man. Amidst all the exacerbations of party contention, major Bennett was popular and respected—and those who differed from him in political sentiment, did full justice to the excellence of his heart, the ardour of his patriotism and the integrity of his life and motives. In the year 1832, he was elected by his fellow citizens to the office of governor of this state—being the first executive elected under the amended constitution. He died as he had lived, with the composure of a Christian and the intrepidity of a soldier. He has gone from works to rewards—the last of that gallant regiment whose deeds and services will live as long as the records of our country endure.

By the death of governor Bennett, the office of governor devolves upon CHARLES POLK, Esq. speaker of the senate.

SMALL POX.

Important discovery.—Dr. Luzenberg, a respectable physician of New Orleans, says he has discovered the cause and the remedy for the disfigurement of the face by the small pox. It is well known that the face is usually the only part of the body which is pitted and deformed by this disease; and Dr. Luzenberg says it is because this is the only part that is exposed to the action of light. He has ascertained by experiment that when the face, however covered with the pustules of this disease, is completely sheltered from the light, it will not be more marked than any other part which is thus protected.

A VEGETABLE COUNTENANCE.

The Barrister Curran describes under this title, a man who had curly hair, a turn-up nose and a raddish face. The description would have been more complete, had the same individual been blessed with a sage look that was not easily to be brow-beat by a lawyer, and favored with a goop share of what the Yankees call sauce.
